PRESCOTT JOURNAL-MINER, WEDNESDAY MORNING, JULY 6, 1921

FIFTY-EIGHTH YEAR

RITCHIE LEWIS WINS BRONCHO MEDAL; HENDERSON SECOND

FRONTIER HONORS HOTLY CONTESTED ON FINAL DAY; GREAT RIDING MARKS WIND-UP OF FEATURE SADDLE EVENT

Ritchie Lewis is the world's champion broncho buster.

When Homer Wood had got along toward the end of his list of averages late yesterday afternoon, it became very obvious that the young Prescott rider would never be passed, and within a few minutes after the last bronc had been busted, Lester Ruffner, the area director, waltzed Ritchie out in front of the crowd, gave him his right name and title and attached the many-barred gold medal to the panting and proud bosom which will be so adorned for one year from date.

Whereupon Ritchie suffered the penalty of greatness. The experience from which rank upon rank of brave doughboys shrank in France was his. No sooner had the medal been safely pinned on than the late competitors in the bronc busting arena crowded around and Bill Wheelon varied the monotony of mere hand-shaking by kissing the hero on both of his weather-rusted cheeks. Cheyenne Kiser, who relinquished all chances of regaining the medal he won in 1920 when Bed Bug stung him the day before, consoled himself by winning the bareback championship for the third successive year, thus establishing a new mark to shoot at, for no three-time or even two-time winner has ever performed in the difficult and hazardous arena of the Prescott Frontier days.

THE ROPERS SET UP MARKS TO SHOOT AT

Roping this year was of the fastest sort, and when it was announced that Perley Morris of Phoenix and his brother, Logan Morris, had acquired the $1,000 first prize for the bull captivating, and had actually roped and tied three critters in the astounding total of 96 seconds, there were exclamations of amazement from the old-time cowhands.

Lee Robinson, the Hackberry wonder, who was in everything and trying all the while, annexed the world's calf-tying championship with a remarkable average of 23.3-5 seconds for three calves. He won $500 in this event, and there were few others on the program that Lee didn't try for and not so many in which he did not win something.

CROWD NOT UP TO FRONTIER STANDARD

The last day crowd was smaller than usual by several hundred. But the entertainment on the final day was of a superior quality. It seemed as though the saddle buckers were bent upon making up for the lack of casualties during the first three days, and they fared in a manner more sensational and spectacular than ever before. The Bolshevik, on which was found Mister Lee Robinson, was perhaps the meanest of the lot, and anybody will say that Lee did himself proud.

Harry Henderson on the hurricane deck of Dry Farmer donated the crowd the more sensational ride, right up to the grandstand fence, with dust and clouds flying and horse and man just a-workin' it for all that both were worth. Ritchie Lewis got a remarkable ride on Red Fox, that which old-timer in the bucking arena, there are few if any horses than whicher.

Doc Pardee, a rider who has held the medal, and for whom can be said a thing not applicable to any other in the immediate vicinity—that he has never been disqualified—got fourth place behind Ed Henderson, who followed Harry Henderson. There were some who figured Henderson and Pardee to class above Lewis and Henderson, but it was the board of three judges that rode closest to the men and had the best opportunity to observe the conduct of men and beasts. And their awards, made by voting, were what Homer Wood used to figure out the final averages.

There was a consolation bucking event for men who had ploughed the arena with their unwilling and protesting frames, for those who had lost reins, stirrups or the opportunity to spur twice in the shoulders during and while the first five jumps were being executed by the horse. This was accumulated by Walter Long, who got his K. O. on the opening day. Walter was wealthier by 100 bucks because the bucks of his consolation horse, the said Chuck

ROPING HONORS GO TO ROBINSON, CLAY M'GONAGILL, SANDERS WITH AMAZING TIME

Roping and tying three bulls in a trifle more than 96 seconds is the wonderful and unusual feat accomplished by Perley and Log Morris in the most highly paid contest of the Frontier days which closed yesterday.

A three-calf average of 23.3-5 seconds was the excellent achievement of Lee Robinson of Hackberry. Roping records of this sort under rules such as are enforced at the Prescott Frontier days, mean something to the hardy cattlemen who make them, and cause other westerners to give ungrudging admiration.

Following is a graphic representation of the figures, for the two great lariat competitions:

Bull Roping
P. Morris	36.2	31.1	30	32-22-45
L. Morris
Sanders	29.1	32.2	38.2	33-1-3
McGonigall
Jones	33	33.1	35.3	33-41-45
Cole
Vest	39	28.1	40.1	35-4-5
Tyree
Conley	32	28.4	54.3	38-13-45
P. Morris
Fredericks	33.4	43.1	38	38-13-45
Murdock
Garrett	26	42.2	46.3	38-1-3
Tyree

It will be noted that two teams are tied for fifth and sixth places. The prizes were split in this case. In the table, the first column represents the time for the first tie, the second column for the second tie, and the last column, the average time in seconds in which it took the winners to tie their three animals. The figures after the period in the first three columns represent fifths of a second.

Calf Tying
Robinson	26.3	20	24.1	23-3-5
Cline	24.1	27	20.4	23-37-45
Tyree	25.4	24.2	26.2	25-6-15
Gardner	27.1	27.3	25	26-14-15
Jackson	28.2	26.3	26.2	27-2-3
Belout	25.1	32.1	25	27-23-45

It will be noted that Lee Robinson won from George Cline by the astoundingly narrow margin of 10-45 of a second. Some will ask how in the Sam Hill a stopwatch can time this close. It can't. The figure represents the average time and is figured on a purely mathematical basis.

SENATE ADJOURNMENT DEFEATED NARROWLY BY MIXED POLITICS

(Associated Press Night Wire)

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 5.—The agricultural bloc of the senate today caused the defeat of a proposal for adjournment of the senate next Saturday for four weeks while the house is considering the tariff bill.

By a vote of 27 to 24, an adjournment resolution offered by Senator Lodge of Massachusetts, the republican leaders, was voted down. It was supported by a majority of the republicans and five democrats but was beaten by 16 republicans and 11 democrats. Nearly all of the opponents were aligned with the agricultural bloc.

Demands for farmer relief legislation featured discussion which waged for three hours under swirling electric fans assisted by individual palm leaves in one of the hottest days of the summer.

After beating the resolution, the senate agreed to proceed tomorrow with the soldier bonus legislation. Senators Underwood and Myers, Montana, democrats, and Warren, republican, of Wyoming, voted against giving the bonus measure privileged status.

House Has Troubles Too
WASHINGTON, D. C., July 5.—

A break in the ranks of republican members of the house ways and means committee who drafted the tariff bill came today when Representative Frear of Wisconsin made public a minority statement charging his colleagues with disregard for party pledges and assailing them for proposing "fundamentally indefensible provisions and rates of duties."

The statement will be filed along with the majority report of the committee which is expected to be submitted to the house tomorrow.

Mr. Frear's attack while predicated on the dye control provision, embraced many other features of the bill. The Wisconsin member declared the rate of duty to be excessive in scope of instances and added that they would lead to exactions by "trusts and monopolies," thus increasing the burden the people must carry.

Mr. Frear referred to the argument that protection for the dye makers was necessary for national defense and asked why it was necessary to assume that the nation would be thrown into a great war and at the same time "to grant practically exclusive rights of dye manufacturers to a recognized monopoly."

JUAREZ SORE, WANTS MAYOR TO RESIGN

(Associated Press Night Wire)

JUAREZ, July 5.—Mayor Francisco Rodriguez of this city was temporarily deposed from office today following a hearing in the federal court on a charge he had abused his authority. The alleged offense consisted of drawing a pistol on two citizens engaged in a street altercation. Friends of the mayor insist the charges are the outgrowth of the war, being waged by the police against illicit drug dealers and gamblers. Gambling has been closed tightly for many months and arrest and deportation of drug peddlers and addicts are daily occurrences.

The mayor charges the drug trade is controlled by wealthy Mexican residents of El Paso who have brought political pressure to bear to bring about his downfall. The statement is made that any effort of the military to take over the town will be met by armed resistance from the police. Saturday several hundred men marched on the city hall and demanded the resignation of the mayor.

PHOENIX, July 5.—The state corporation commission today announced that it had employed Ralph Rollins as a publicity man. His salary will be paid from the general fund of the commission.

PROCLAMATION OF WAR'S END IS ANTICIPATED

(Associated Press Night Wire)

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 5.—Secretary Hughes conferred late today with President Harding upon the latter's return from Raritan, N. J. It is understood that the question of issuing a proclamation supplementing the congressional resolution ending the state of war with Germany and Austria was considered.

There were indications that before a decision is reached in the matter, the attorney general may be asked for an opinion as to whether it is necessary to issue a proclamation to protect the government against any claims arising out of the war or to terminate war-time legislation.

LOCOMOTIVE SHOPS RESUME EMPLOYMENT

(Associated Press Night Wire)

SPRINGFIELD, Mo., July 5.—The locomotive shops of the St. Louis & San Francisco Railroad company here were reopened today, giving employment to between 800 and 900 men. The shops had been closed since January. The road's working forces here is still about 1,400 under normal.

HORTON DIVORCE CASE REVERSED BY SUPREME COURT OF ARIZONA

(Associated Press Night Wire)

PHOENIX, July 5.—The state supreme court today held that marriages contracted outside of Arizona by persons prohibited from marrying within the state by the Arizona divorce law are valid and binding, even when the contracting parties return to this state to reside.

The decision was handed down in the case of Annie Horton, appellant, vs. L. J. Horton, appellee. The case had been watched by many persons in the state who had gone to other states to be married in order to avoid the restrictions imposed by the Arizona divorce laws.

According to the record in the Horton case, Mrs. Horton was married to Mr. Horton on September 12, 1918, in Deming, N. M. She had been divorced from William Crawford in Arizona on August 1, 1918, and was ineligible for marriage in Arizona until August 1, 1919. The Hortons lived together until about February 20, 1920, according to the record, and then Mr. Horton secured an annulment of the marriage by the Maricopa county superior court on the ground that Mrs. Horton had married within a year following her divorce.

The supreme court held that the present laws did not prohibit the practice of divorced persons being married in other states to avoid the restrictions provided in Arizona. It suggested that if the legislature disapproved of the decision in this case, the next legislature should enact legislation explicitly providing "that marriage contracted within another state by parties who have left this state for the purpose of evading its laws and who return and live here, shall be of no force in this state."

The decision of the superior court annulling the Horton marriage was reversed with instructions that the action be dismissed.

DEMPSEY RETURNS TO WESTERN HOME

(Associated Press Night Wire)

NEW YORK, July 5.—Jack Dempsey, world's heavyweight boxing champion, quietly left his hotel here late today and a short time later was aboard a train bound for Salt Lake. He was accompanied by Teddy Hayes, his trainer, and Detective Sergeant Mike Trant, of Chicago, who has been the champion's body guard and constant companion since he began training for the bout with Carpenter. Jack Kearns, Dempsey's manager, did not accompany the party. Jack will visit his mother, Mrs. Celia Dempsey. After the visit he probably will go to California.

Trouble shot from two directions toward the champion during the day. His valuable limousine was seized by a deputy sheriff, acting on a writ issued last Friday in Batavia, N. Y., in a $100,000 suit brought by Frank Spellman in connection with a motion picture enterprise. In Jersey City, counsel for the International Reform Bureau endeavored to have him haled into court on a complaint charging him with assaulting Carpenter.

HARDING FELICITATES VENEZUELAN CHIEF

(Associated Press Night Wire)

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 5.—A message of felicitation on the anniversary of the Independence of Venezuela was sent by President Harding today to Dr. V. Marquez Buttillo, provisional president. The message said:

"The government and people of the United States send the government and people of Venezuela their most cordial felicitations on this anniversary of the independence of their sister republic. The generous gift of the republic of Venezuela to the city of New York and the recent visit to this country of the distinguished minister of foreign affairs of the republic of Venezuela, have contributed in making still closer the bond of friendship between the two countries."

"Pray accept also the personal expression of my high regard and good wishes."

MRS. KABER WILL FACE MALE JURY

(Associated Press Night Wire)

CLEVELAND, July 5.—Chances that even one woman is going to sit on the jury trying Mrs. Eva Catherine Kaber here for the murder of her husband were exceedingly slim tonight. Eleven men were in the tentative panel. Six women tentatively seated earlier in the day were excused on peremptory challenges of Mrs. Kaber's counsel.

The defense had six peremptory challenges left when court adjourned, the state two. Of about 40 tentative jurors there are only two women. Another special venire of 30 names was ordered today by the court.

Judge Bernon announced tonight that he expected the jury to be completed tomorrow.

WAGES DROPPED

(Associated Press Night Wire)

BALTIMORE, July 5.—The third furlough of workers at the Mt. Clare shops of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad came to an end today when 1,500 mechanics who have been idle for more than three weeks were recalled to take up work which was interrupted by the third furlough announcement since January 1. They returned to their tasks, it is said, at lower wages than those received before the last lay-off.
